Hi Laura,

That date range end of August – beginning of September 2023, including during and just past Labor Day was impact from Hurricane Idalia.

Attached FYI are the email communications from Ron Capranos, including he had notified E&E Sales Managers and Executives.

JLA Sales Managers are responsible for ensuring the buyers/managers for their Retail Accounts are notified.

Shannon Tuohey was VP with Jennifer Whitney was the JLA Sales Manager for Overstock. I was surprised to learn she had left the company. Last email I see from Shannon is August 23, 2023.

Shannon may have left the company before this hurricane.

Thanks, Sherry

Dear E&E/JLA and Customers,

Good news for our two Port Wentworth DC's. We will be fully operational on all shifts and should be current on all open orders by the end of day on Friday Sept 01.

UPS and FedEx have advised that they are operating their terminals in our area today, however there may be some service issues making deliveries into Florida and other areas affected by the storm.

Our customer service team will be available to answer any specific inquiries you may have.

Many thanks to the JLA/SHIP8 teams for their planning and preparedness during this time! We are very pleased to say that we had no damage to our facilities and all of our employees were safe during Hurricane Idalia.

Dear E&E/JLA Customers,

Orders will continue to be impacted today and likely for the balance of the week out of our two Port Wentworth, GA DC's.

Hurricane Idalia is passing through GA at this time and we expect the storm to continue to impact the Savannah/Port Wentworth area for the next several hours and through this evening. The state of GA remains under a state of emergency and we will follow all state mandates.

The Port of Savannah was closed this morning and projected to re-open tomorrow as well. UPS/FedEx/USPS are not picking up today. We will advise order status updates and any carrier related delays once we re-open.

Our plan is to re-open our 550 Northport Parkway and 311 International Trade Parkway DC's tomorrow at 9:00 AM on 8/31 provided it is safe to do so.

Thank you for your understanding.

Dear E&E/JLA,

SHIP8 is closely monitoring Hurricane Idalia and have begun to execute our Hurricane Preparedness Plan to protect our employees and property for possible impact at our two Port Wentworth DC's.

Hurricane Idalia is likely bringing rain and high winds to the Savannah area on Wednesday. The latest model from the National Weather Service shows the storm making landfall along the western coast of Florida and then moving northeast across Florida and the southeastern part of Georgia.

There may be delays in the processing of orders this week if the storm stays on the current forecasted path. The Port of Savannah and UPS/FedEx/USPS and other LTL and TL carriers may be impacted during this time frame. The SHIP8 Team will advise any of your customers they regularly have contact with as part of their normal exchange of communications on Order Status updates.

I will keep you all updated as our preparations and further developments of the storm unfold.

Hurricane Idalia - Latest Update

Governor Kemp has now declared a state of emergency for GA in order to enact protocols and deploy resources as needed.

Hurricane Idalia is projected to make landfall at 8:00 AM tomorrow on the north east coast of Florida and we are expecting heavy rains and tropical force winds by early tomorrow morning in the Savannah area. UPS and FedEx will pick up shipments today up until 7:00 PM but have not advised yet what they will do after that. They will be monitoring wind conditions and will pull their drivers once the wind picks up.

We are planning on closing warehouse operations tomorrow and resume operations at 9:00 AM on Thursday morning. The later start time will allow our inspection teams to inspect and re-open the warehouses and ensure they are safe to resume operations. The later start will also allow employees to commute during daylight hours to ensure better visibility of possible road hazards or flooding on the roadways.

I will advise if anything changes with our current Hurricane Preparedness Plans.
