We need to know the following

Where is this load picking up from

Where is this delivering to and the po number

There seems to be a lot of confusion on this shipment

Please attach necessary documentation showing all information needed to process this @DRR Please advise on disposition asap.

UPS team - We haven't taken possession of the freight so this would fall on your team to resolve with the carrier. The load should be going back to the shipper for rework again. Are you able to rework the freight today if the driver returns this afternoon?

Please advise.

+Dave Cathey +Andrew Miller for assistance

Hello Dave/Andrew,

I'm not sure if you're the correct contacts for PO 1740409350 (dept 14), but the regional dispatch form from UPS indicates this PO should be going to 1203 instead of 174. We would need to cancel the load we created with the carrier, and change the receiver to 174 based on the original destination. Should the freight truly be going to 1203 instead of 174?

Mike - I don't see why this would go to Van Buren, but wait for buying to confirm before we do anything with the load in TMS.

Thanks,
