On February 15, 2022 we ordered a Plush Electric Blanket (King) Ivory - Beautyrest on line from Target, which was delivered on or about February 24th or 25th. The sewn-on tag has the following numbers:

Number :	E489171
Date Code:	32021
RN#	91519
Model #	SCEB K.ML.21

The blanket blanket has been operating perfectly through the rest of the '21-'22 winter, and all of the '22-'23 winter. We just put the blanket back on the bed for this winter, and again, as before, the operation is perfect.

However, we did notice from the very beginning that the fleece on the blanket is oriented so as to cause it to move to the right side of the bed during the night (looking at it from the foot of the bed). I took pictures of the blanket on the un-made bed this morning showing the blanket displaced about a foot to the right side of the bed. This means that we have to peel back the bedspread and protective cover (we have 4 cats) in order to restore it to its centered position every morning.

We imagine you have received many other complaints regarding this problem. We were just wondering if you had a solution, or do we just live with it. Other than this problem, we are really satisfied with how the blanket performs.
