ABOUT US

We provide logistical support to the companies evolving global trade. We connect people and products, and work with customers from an array of industries including retail, food, technology, manufacturing, healthcare, automotive and aerospace.

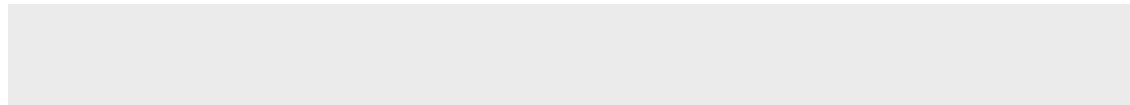

Today's competitive environment requires a flexible and responsive approach to logistics. When shipping to every corner of the globe, we just focus on managing the movement of products successfully, and improve our customers' logistics performance by offering reliable, cost-effective transportation choices via air, ocean and ground.

TRANSPORTATION

We believe that transportation should be simple. We help ensure your goods arrive where and when you need them, whatever the mode.

As a service-based company, we do not own the aircraft, ships or trucks we use every day. This allows us to be highly flexible and responsive in our approach to transportation management, and very effective at finding better route and pricing options.

Air

A passion for shipping the right products to the right market at the right time in the sky

When time and speed matter, we ensure your shipments reach their destinations as planned. From coffee and grain to electronics, automobiles, apparel, fresh fruits, chocolates, poultry and fish, we work hard to get your cargo to its destination on time. It doesn't matter what you're shipping, where your goods are going, or how quickly they need to get there, we make your air freight business run.

Sea

An approach that continuously increases efficiency from one coast to inland

Deger ships products of all sizes and weights to the seaports anywhere in the world, and facilitates your global trade relationships, across continents. We handle any kind of long-distance sea trades routes but are also highly efficient on short-distance route through leveraging our carriers. Regardless of your industry, your commodity, or your key markets, deger moves your business forward.

Land

Determination on managing the movement of products successfully on land

Through our network of service providers, we utilise our regional and local carriers providing capacity and convenient pricing across Middle Asia and Middle East. We follow up your shipments rigorously throughout their road journey and ensure your goods are travelling on efficient route.

Uzbekistan, Kazakhstan, Kyrgyzstan, Tajikistan and Iraq (FTL)

We are well-focused on providing a smooth international door-to-door distribution service. But, Middle Asia and East has been our core focus region, and we push our transportation range there. We move your freight where it needs to go in these countries, whether it is short-haul or long-haul, we safely get it there.

INDUSTRIES

Our business covers a wide variety of industries. We connect the dots of your business—from product inception to final delivery, whatever you're shipping, wherever you're shipping it. Put us to work and watch your logistics flourish.

Automotive

The auto industry demands just in time (JIT) shipping. Together we can turn your logistics strategy into your strongest line of defense against high costs.

Food and Beverage

Your products feed the world. We can arrange for the efficient transport and delivery of just about any dry, liquid, fresh, or frozen food or beverage out there.

Technology and Electronics

We're on the brink of a fourth industrial revolution. As technology advances and customer expectations shift, it becomes increasingly difficult to set your company apart. We know that on time delivery, reliable and experienced carriers are what you need to compete.

Healthcare

We keep up with the fast-paced adaptations of the healthcare industry. Providing time- and temperature-sensitive healthcare products reach their destination safely can be lifesaving, so we know the quality should be maintained for entire journey of products.

Retail and Consumer

Consumer trends can swing overnight. Emerging markets, a rapidly evolving commercial environment, and providing a convenient service in an ever-more demanding retail industry are one of the challenges facing the retail sector. We help meet these challenges by collaborating with you.

Industrial and Aerospace

Time-sensitive or high-profile shipments can't be late or mishandled. From production materials to finished goods — whether you're shipping replacement parts or an aircraft engine, we will ensure your logistics needs are done right.

SUSTAINABILITY

We take responsibility for a sustainable future. We consider that institutions play an important factor in reaching human and environmental rights and development, and believe that giving back to the community benefits clients, carriers, employees, and the organizations we support.

Sustainable development has many facets. For us, one of the most important ways to ensure sustainable development is to protect children's rights. Children's rights are the ultimate definition of sustainability, and an essential investment for a sustainable future. Safeguarding these rights helps build the strong, well-educated communities that are vital to creating stable, inclusive and productive societies.

We contribute to building a sustainable future for children and donate $1 for every shipment we make to many nonprofits.
